NFT CLASSES

Because the general use of “NFT” to design any non-fungible token provide a restricted framework of applications, a classification and categorization system was required to highlight the possibilities they offer on a given use-case.

Eternaal has created 6 Categories and +25 classes of NFT, each of them with their own functions, terms and an adapted licensing model.

CANVAS CLASS NFT

Conceptualize a personal experience with an Eternaal artist, mint it as a tattoo NFT and then, just remember and pass on as heritage.

ASSET CLASS NFT

aNFT (Asset Class NFT) are the bond between the physical and the digital a statement of ownership and a technical revolution in a single concept.

Possibilities to combine real world asset along with their digital counterpart added with the ability to wrap it with an intellectual property system allowing collaboration and branding, such is the promise of the asset class NFT.

When access to some classes is restricted to certain users (ie: Only tattoo artist can mint NF2T) others are publicly available, such as (among many) experience class or document class. The 6 categories Ethernaal has defined are: Asset, Living, Personnal, Common, Social and Tattoo each one having a different button color. Within each category a classification system is applied and the classes can be identified with their symbols (for reference see the Ethernaal classification table of NFT).

EXPERIENCE CLASS NFT

For some people, tattoos are a physical reflection of a profound experience. Tokenize a scar, an accident, a love or an enlightenment. Personal or collective experience such as a social movement or a community achievement, then, just remember.

Then, when the time comes, pass on the NFT and its legacy as an heritage and allow the generations to come after you to understand the roots of their genetic memory.

LIVING CLASS

Auction a part of your body for a recognized master looking for the perfect canvas, or leverage the virtual class to auction a part of an AI or simulated being.
